

Paul Chiang, MD, Senior Medical and Practice Advisor, Home Centered Care Institute

In addition to his role at HCCI, Dr. Chiang serves as Medical Director for HomeCare Physicians (HCP), a suburban Chicago practice focused on delivering care to medically complex patients in their homes. HCP has made more than 117,000 house calls to home-limited patients since its founding in 1997, and Dr. Chiang has personally made over 34,000 house calls to more than 3,000 patients during his 20-year career. His practice and work have been featured on ABC News Chicago and in northeast Illinois' Daily Herald. In 2014, Central DuPage Hospital named him as one of 50 Unsung Heroes. In October 2019, Dr. Chiang received the "House Call Doctor of the Year" award from the American Academy of Home Care Medicine.

James M. Ellison, MD, MPH, was most recently The Swank Foundation Endowed Chair in Memory Care and Geriatrics at Christiana Care Health System. He is a recognized clinician, researcher and educator in geriatric and adult psychiatry with special expertise in geriatric mood and anxiety disorders, and neurocognitive disorders. Dr. Ellison joined Christiana Care from McLean Hospital in Belmont, Massachusetts, where he had served as director of the Geriatric Psychiatry Program, the Memory Disorders Clinic, and the Partners HealthCare Fellowship in Geriatric Psychiatry.

Michael Helle, NRP/CCP, FF-C, MHA, MBA, Director of Clinical Programs, University of California San Francisco Medical Center

Mr. Helle has been a National Registered Paramedic since 1994 and Critical Care Paramedic since 2003. Over his career he has served in many manager and director roles including Director of Emergency/Trauma and Outpatient Services for Genesis Health System, Director of Outpatient Services/Case Management for Beaver Dam Hospital and most recently Operations Manager for the Interventional Radiology Program at Stanford Health Care. He has continued to work as a Critical Care Flight Paramedic for the past 18 years in conjunction with his administrative roles. Michael is a member of the American College of Healthcare Executives.

Michael J Kingan DNP, APRN-BC, CWOON, Geriatric Nurse Practitioner

Dr. Kingan has been a nurse for over twenty years. He has worked in acute, sub-acute, and community care settings. He was a Director in the Quality Safety and Education Division at the largest hospital in the Nation's Capital. He is a member of AACN, GWAC member and past president, Sigma Theta Tau, Wound Ostomy Continence Nurse's Society – local and national chapter. His clinical service has been recognized by Sigma Theta Tau. He currently practices as a geriatric nurse practitioner providing home-based primary medical care in the Wilmington, Delaware region.

Ina Li, MD, Clinical Director of Continuing Care and Home-Based Services and Clinical Director of Geriatrics, Christiana Care

In her role at Christiana Care, Dr. Li provides leadership for Geriatrics, Supportive and Palliative Care, Home Health, and other post-acute initiatives. She has made numerous contributions to the care of patients in Delaware, including developing a Home Visit Program that provides care to 800+ homebound patients in the community. She also has an appointment at Thomas Jefferson University as Clinical Associate Professor for the Department of Family and Community Medicine. She is the medical director of Christiana Care's Visiting Nurses Association (VNA), and she has had an additional appointment since 2007 as Clinical Assistant Professor at Sidney Kimmel Medical College.

Amanda Tufano, MHA, FACHE, CMPE, Chief Executive Officer, Genevive

In her role at Genevive, Amanda leads a team of over 115 people including Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Nurses, and Social Workers deployed throughout Minneapolis-St. Paul and greater Minnesota. In addition to delivering transitional care and primary care services in long-term care facilities, Genevive offers a unique home visit program to qualified enrollees. Amanda holds a Master of Healthcare Administration degree from the University of Minnesota, is a Certified Medical Practice Executive, and holds additional certifications in Lean, Six Sigma, and project management. She received her Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts undergraduate degrees from the University of Texas at Austin. Amanda sits on the Boards of the Minnesota American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) and Minnesota Association of Geriatric Inspired Clinicians (MAGIC). In addition, she sits on the National ACHE CEO Committee and LGBTQ Forum Committee.